What others say about this ebook:

Review 1:

Great book , had me interested from page one, I could say a great deal more but I think that tells it all.

Review 2:

This was a very well written story about one man's love for a special woman so he crosses the bridges of time itself to correct an error of judgement from long ago.

The characters in this book were definetly believable. Interesting. Human.

Mael MacRaigl is what a woman would hope to find once in their lifetime. Jeanne McBen is the object of Mael's affection and one very lucky lady!

The characters sizzle with chemistry. This is the kind of story that makes you want to believe in happily ever after, no matter what the cost.....

I recommend this book for lovers of anything to do with highlanders or Scotland. It is a believable plot, on that is definetly different and sure to please.

Review 3:

A virus is on the rampage in 2005, leaving women sterile and men dying at a young age. The human race is in jeopardy of extinction. Doctor Jeanne McBen has discovered a cure that involves ancient DNA. Her mentor Trench is determined to get his hands on the cure and use it to make a fortune selling it to the wealthy. Trench holds Ryan, Jeanne's brother, captive, threatening to kill him if she doesn't cooperate. When Trench finds a portal where time bends he drags Jeanne back in time with him.

The Scottish peasants think Jeanne is a witch and tie her to a stake and light a fire under her. Mael McRaigl, the Laird of the clan, rescues her and takes her back to his castle with him. With the arrival of Jeanne and Trench in ancient Scotland comes death. The locals suspect a vampire is among them. Rachel is sure it is Trench collecting blood.

Mael's sister has married against his wishes. Is Lord Tyron truly a monster of the night or is it just superstition? Why would a beautiful young woman sell her soul? Will Mael give up Jeanne for the Clan? How much is he will to sacrifice for love?

"All I Want" by Sally Painter is a beautifully written romance. The characters are well developed and come to life on the pages. Mael is strong, handsome and the perfect mate for Jeanne. Jeanne is beautiful and brilliant and does not lack cunning. It is obvious that Mael and Jeanne are soul mates. Both Trench and Tyrone are secondary characters that are interesting. Both men are frightening and evil. Verica, the keeper of the portal, has deep dimensions to her character. I would enjoy her showing up in other books. The love story between Mael and Jeanne is intense. The lovemaking is fierce and left me breathless. I really enjoyed "All I Want" and highly recommend it to others that enjoy erotic romance, time travel and a really good read.
