Early Quaker Records in Virginia

This is an exact transcription of genealogical data in the oldest Quaker records in Virginia, the so-called Chuckatuck Record. It is mainly birth, marriage, and death records in Nansemond and Isle of Wight counties, beginning in 1673, although a few entries relate to events of an earlier date. The birth and death records provide the usual names and dates, while the marriage records have the names of the parties to the marriage, the date, parents' names, and the lists of witnesses, many of whom were relatives of the bride and groom.

What others say about this ebook:

Review 1:

It is an important addition to the research of my family history. I hope that this work will help others who are into geneology. My thanks to Mr. White.

Review 2:

Our family descends from the English colonists from this Quaker meeting house. Our direct line and allied family births, marriages, and other important information is accurately recorded in this transcription of the original records. This is a great original source for many NC and VA families.
